A My Dad's very tall and thin, with a big nose. He looks a bit like a tall, thin bird! He has blond hair and blue eyes, which is typical of Sweden – his grandmother was from Sweden. Um, he looks a bit serious but he isn't really. He's very funny – he has a great sense of humour.

B I think my dad's quite good-looking. He's not very tall, a bit taller than me, and he still has his hair, but less than before – it was dark, but it's grey now. He's not thin, but he isn't overweight, he's careful about what he eats. And he's got a lovely smile.

C My dad's short and thin, and he wears glasses. He isn't exactly good-looking, but he's not unattractive either. He's very friendly, and very talkative, in fact he never stops talking.

1.19 Elspeth

My name's Elspeth. I'm 25, I'm a journalist, I live in Dublin, and I'm single. It's not easy to meet people here. So who can help me? My mother... and a dating app. My favourite dating app, called Tinder, shows you photos of possible partners with a bit of information about them. You look at the photos and swipe, swipe, swipe. Swipe right if you like them, and swipe left... well... swipe left if you don't. If a guy likes you and you like him, you have a match. Then you can start messaging the person and from this, romance follows... or so they say. I've tried it, but with no success. So I decide to give my mother my phone. She can swipe all the men she likes, and then look at my matches and choose the people that she likes the best. I've promised to go on a date with the men she chooses.

1.20*Date 1

My first date is with a nice guy called John. I sit at a table in a bar and wait for him to arrive. An old man walks towards the table, and for two awful seconds I think it's all a terrible mistake, but he walks past and then my date arrives. He's very tall, one metre ninety. Well done, Mum! I'm tall myself, so I always look for tall men, as my mum knows well. We start chatting, and it's all very easy. Mum has good taste. He's a teacher. We get on well and it's a fun date, but sadly there isn't a spark. So I try again.

Date 2

I arrive a bit early again, and I sit there waiting for Sebastian to arrive. Suddenly I realise that I can't remember anything at all about him, not even where he's from. Then he comes through the door: tall, dark, and handsome. 'Mum, you're amazing', I say to myself. He's from Germany but he lives in Dublin. He's a real gentleman. At the end of the evening, he asks for a second date. Mum is very pleased. I agree to the date, but I don't really think it's going to work.

1.21 Date 3

Date number 3 is George. He suggests a bar on South William Street. I arrive early – I'm definitely the most punctual person in the world. I stand outside, very confused: the bar is closed. For a moment I think Mum has finally got it wrong. But a few minutes later he arrives – he just didn't know the bar was closed. We go somewhere else and start chatting. He tells me he works in IT and is from just outside Dublin. This guy is great fun. He's very relaxed and interesting – he's travelled a lot. He tells a lot of funny stories. It's all going well, and I'm getting very enthusiastic, when my phone pings.

1.22

It's all going well, and I'm getting very enthusiastic, when my phone pings.

It's on the table between us and it's a text. From my mother.

'Well, is he lovely? Love Mum.'

George looks at my screen and reads the text. I want to die.

1.28

Johannes Vermeer was a seventeenth century painter from the city of Delft in Holland. He mainly painted the people and things he saw around him: the rooms in his house, the people who lived or worked there (usually women), and the things they did every day. For example, in his work you will see women who are playing music, reading or writing letters, or working in the kitchen. Vermeer was especially good at painting light coming into a room through windows. Partly for this reason, people often describe his work as being like photography or film – his paintings can seem very 'real'.

This painting, The Milkmaid, is one of these very 'photographic' images. The woman, a maid or a servant, is pouring milk into a bowl. Perhaps she's making a bread and milk pudding, because there are pieces of broken bread on the table. Nobody knows if the woman he painted was a real servant or a model. However, most people think Vermeer usually painted his wife, his daughter, and his servant, not models. A famous book and film, called Girl with a Pearl Earring, inspired by one of his best-known paintings, is an imaginary story about Vermeer and his relationship with his young servant..

People admired Vermeer's paintings a lot in his lifetime but he was never rich. There are two reasons for this. First, because he painted very slowly. Today there are only 34 paintings which we can be sure are by him. Second, because he used very expensive paints. The blue paint he used for the Milkmaid's apron was made of lapis lazuli, which was a very expensive stone.

People loved this painting from the very beginning, and although it is very small, only 46 by 41 centimetres, 20 years after Vermeer died, somebody bought the painting for 175 Dutch guilders. That was an enormous amount of money for the time.

1.30 Jenny

My name's Jenny Zielinski. I live and work in New York. I'm the assistant editor of a magazine called New York 24seven. A few months ago, I visited our office in London to learn more about the company. I met the manager, Daniel O'Connor. I had lots of meetings with him, of course. And a working dinner on my birthday... But I spent more time with Rob Walker. He's one of the writers on the London magazine. We had coffees together. We went sightseeing. I even helped Rob buy a shirt! He was fun to be with. I liked him a lot. I think he liked me too. Rob isn't the most punctual person in the world, but he is a great writer. We invited him to work for the New York magazine for a month... and he agreed! So now Rob's coming to New York. I know he's really excited about it. It's going to be great to see him again.

Lesson 2A

2.1 Marta's story

This happened two years ago. I'm Spanish, but I was in Ireland at the time because I had a job in Dublin. Some friends of mine who lived in Lyon, in France, invited me to come and stay so I decided to have a short holiday, a long weekend, from Friday to Tuesday. I looked for cheap flights but I couldn't find any direct ones. The only thing I could find was Ryanair from Dublin to Brussels and then Air France from Brussels to Lyon.

Anyway, the flight to Brussels was fine, and when I arrived I went to the gate for my next flight to Lyon, but then when I needed to show my boarding pass and my ID, I couldn't find my ID card. I looked everywhere, in my bag, in my case, but it wasn't there. The people at the gate were very nice and they made some phone calls, but nobody could find it. So they told me to wait in a small room and I sat there for more than an hour, and my flight to Lyon left without me.

It was awful – I cried – I was so stressed and unhappy. In the end, a policeman came and he said that I couldn't go to France because I didn't have any ID – the only place I could go was to Spain to get a new ID card! I waited another five or six hours for the flight to Madrid, feeling very depressed.

So I never had my holiday! I spent the weekend in Madrid getting my new ID card!

Lesson 2C*2.16

Reader Hannah met Jamie last summer. It was Hannah's birthday and she and her friends went to a club. They wanted to dance, but they didn't like the music so Hannah went to speak to the DJ.

Hannah 'This music is awful,'

Reader she said.

Hannah 'Could you play something else?'

Reader The DJ looked at her and said:

Jamie 'Don't worry, I have the perfect song for you.'

Reader Two minutes later he said:

Jamie The next song is by Pink. It's called Get the Party Started and it's for a beautiful girl over there who's wearing a pink dress.

Reader Hannah knew that the song was for her. When Hannah and her friends left the club, the DJ was waiting for her at the door.

Jamie 'Hi, I'm Jamie,'

Reader he said to Hannah.

Jamie 'Can I see you again?'

Reader So Hannah gave him her phone number. The next day Jamie phoned Hannah and invited her to dinner. He took her to a very romantic French restaurant and they talked all evening. Although the food wasn't very good, they had a wonderful time. After that Jamie and Hannah saw each other every day. Every evening when Hannah finished work they met at 5.30 in a coffee bar in the high street. They were madly in love. One afternoon in October, Hannah was at work. As usual she was going to meet Jamie at 5.30. It was dark and it was raining. She looked at her watch. It was 5.20! She was going to be late! She ran to her car and got in. At 5.25 she was driving along the high street. She was going very fast because she was in a hurry. Suddenly, a man ran across the road. He was wearing a dark coat so Hannah didn't see him at first. Quickly, she put her foot on the brake...

2.17

On their first date they went to a restaurant. After that they started meeting every day.

On Thursday I had an argument with my boss. The next day I decided to look for a new job.

Suddenly, a man ran across the road. He was wearing a dark coat so Hannah didn't see him at first. Quickly she put her foot on the brake. She stopped just in time. She got out of her car and shouted at the man.

Hannah Don't you usually look before you cross the road? I nearly hit you. I didn't see you until the last moment.

Jamie Sorry! Hey, Hannah it's me. It's Jamie.

Hannah Jamie! What are you doing here? I nearly killed you!

Jamie I was buying something. I was in a hurry and I crossed the road without looking.

Hannah Come on. Get in!

Reader Hannah and Jamie drove to the coffee bar. They sat down in their usual seats and ordered two cups of coffee.

Waiter Here you are. Two cappuccinos.

Hannah/Jamie Thanks.

Hannah What an evening! I nearly killed you.

Jamie Well, you didn't kill me, so what's the problem?

Hannah But what were you doing in the high street? I thought you were here, in the café, waiting for me.

Jamie I went to the theatre to buy these tickets for the Pink concert. I know you wanted to go. And it's on the 15th of October – next Saturday. Our anniversary.

Hannah Our anniversary?

Jamie Yes. Three months since we first met. We met on Saturday the 15th of July. Remember?

Hannah Gosh, Jamie. I can't believe you remember the exact day! What a romantic! It's lucky I didn't hit you in the street...

Reader Sad ending

Suddenly, a man ran across the road. He was wearing a dark coat so Hannah didn't see him at first. Quickly she put her foot on the brake. Although Hannah tried to stop she couldn't. She hit the man. Hannah panicked. She drove away as fast as she could. When she arrived at the coffee bar Jamie wasn't there. She called him but his phone was turned off. She waited for ten minutes and then she went home.

Two hours later a car arrived at Hannah's house. A policewoman knocked at the door.

Policewoman Good evening, Madam. Are you Hannah Davis?

Hannah Yes, yes, I am.

Policewoman I'd like to speak to you. Can I come in?

Reader The policewoman came in and sat down on the sofa.

Policewoman Are you a friend of Jamie Dixon?

Hannah Yes,

- Hannah What? What's happened?
- Policewoman Jamie had an accident this evening.
- Hannah Oh no. What kind of accident?
- Policewoman He was crossing the road and a car hit him.
- Hannah When...When did this happen? And where?
- Policewoman This evening at twenty-five past five. He was crossing the road near the theatre.
- Hannah Oh no! How is he?
- Policewoman He's in hospital. He's got a bad injury to his head and two broken legs.
- Hannah But is he going to be OK?
- Policewoman We don't know. He's in intensive care.
- Hannah Oh no. And the driver of the car?
- Policewoman She didn't stop.
- Hannah She?
- Policewoman Yes, it was a woman in a black car. Somebody saw the number of the car. You have a black car outside don't you, Madam? Is your number plate GY56 RZR?
- Hannah Yes...yes it is.
- Policewoman Can you tell me where you were at twenty five past five this evening?

I = interviewer, L = Lewis

- I Who do you look like in your family?
- L Er, well people say I often look like my dad a lot. We've got the same sort of nose and the same face shape, but I've got my mum's hair colour and my mum's eyes.

- I Do you have a similar personality?
- L Er, again there is, there are quite a lot of similarities between me and my dad. We're both into German and speaking German, and also into architecture, which is why I'm here.

I = interviewer, S = Susie

- I Do you have a favourite painting?
- S Um, I think so. I'm not sure of the name of the painting, but I like Salvador Dali. I really like the painting with the dripping clocks.
- I Can you describe it?
- S Er, yes, like I said, there are dripping clocks. It's very, um, it's an interesting style. It's not something you see all the time, and it's very colourful.

I = interviewer, S = Shosanna

- I Where did you go for your last holiday?
- S My last vacation I went to Guyana, which is my parents' country in South America.
- I Did you have a good time?
- S I did. It was actually one of the best vacations I had. It was really educational, and I was able to see how my parents grew up, which was interesting.

I = interviewer, S = Susan

- I Do you take a lot of photos?
- S I take a lot of photos. My telephone is full of photos and I use Instagram.
- I What do you usually take photos of?
- S Mostly people, places, gardens, lots of flowers. I never post photos of people, but I take photos of family, but lots of gardens and flowers.

I = interviewer, S = Sam

- I Do you prefer films with a happy or sad ending?
- S Um, it just has to be a good film. I don't mind if it's a happy ending or a sad ending.

- A Hello Mr Bevan. I'm Anna, your tour guide.
- J Hi. Please, call me Jake.
- A OK, Jake. Nice to meet you. How was the flight? Are you very tired?
- J No, I'm fine.
- A Great. Let's go to the car park then. Is it your first time here?
- J Yeah. I was in Europe when I was a student, but somehow I never got here.
- A And your final destination is London, is that right?
- J Yes. I'm going to give a talk at a conference in Oxford.
- A So work, not pleasure?
- J Yes – well, maybe some pleasure too. I have a friend, well, an ex-girlfriend really, who I was with when I was a student. She's British – she lives in Oxford – and we're planning to meet up.
- A That's nice! OK, so now I'm going to tell you a bit about our tour today. We're going to drive to the centre – it takes about 45 minutes – and then we're going to start at the Colosseum.
- J Great. I've always wanted to see it.
- A And then we're going to visit the Forum. After that, we're going to see the Pantheon – one of the oldest buildings in the city.
- J Wow.
- A So then we are very near the Via del Corso, where all the best shops are. Would you like to maybe do some shopping?
- J Well, I'd like to see the shops but I'm probably not going to buy anything.

J Sounds great. And then back to the airport, I guess?

A That's right. We need to allow time for that.

J Yes, I don't want to miss my flight.

A Don't worry. We do this tour every day – and nobody has ever missed their flight.

J Is it going to be very hot today?

A No, not too hot. It's going to be nice, about 22 degrees.

J Perfect. It's going to be a fantastic day.

S Fine, fine. How was the journey? When did you arrive in the UK?

J Last night. The journey was fine. I got a cheap flight with Alitalia, but it meant a long stopover in Rome, but I went on a guided tour and I had a great time.

Student's Book Audioscript

- S That sounds like fun. What did you think of Rome?
- J Fantastic. I loved it. So when can we meet?

- S Well, morning coffee or tea in the afternoon then. What are you doing then?
- J Let's see... I'm going to a talk about climate change at 4.00. So I think maybe morning coffee is best. And then we can try to arrange another time.

Tip 1. Clean quickly but often.

Clean for just ten minutes twice a day. This gives you time to, for example, load the dishwasher and do one other thing like vaccuming. Set an alarm on your phone to motivate yourself.

Tip 2. Keep cleaning products in the right place.

Put cleaning products near the place where you need them. Keep bathroom cleaners in the bathroom, keep bin bags by the bin, and keep dishwasher tablets on top of the dishwasher. Sometimes you don't clean if you can't immediately see what you need, and you don't want to look for it.

Tip 3. Clean the microwave regularly.

You probably use this every day and it gets dirty quickly, believe me. But cleaning it is super easy. All you need to do is pour a little water into a microwave-safe bowl, slice a lemon in half and squeeze the juice into the water. Then, put the two halves of the lemon in the bowl and microwave on high for three minutes. Leave the door closed for another five minutes, and then clean the inside with a cloth.

Tip 4. Use your dishwasher to clean other things.

If you have a dishwasher it's probably already your best friend. But did you know that it can clean much more than just kitchen things? You can use it to clean all kinds of things made of plastic like toys, or even flip flops or other plastic shoes, and also for things made of metal like tools, or keys.

Tip 5. Tell people to take off their shoes when they come in.

If you hate vacuuming, but you also hate the floor because you don't do the vaccuming, there's an easy solution – tell your housemates and guests to take off their shoes at the front door. And if they refuse, give them the vacuum cleaner.

Tip 6. Use your socks to clean the floor.

If you have a hard floor, like wood or stone, for example, make your socks work for you. Take your shoes off, and slide across a different part of your floor each time you move across it. It'll soon be completely clean. Then, just throw your socks in the washing machine.

And finally tip 7. Listen to music while you clean.

Sometimes you really need to do some housework that you hate, like ironing or cleaning the bathroom. Put on your favourite playlist and focus on the music, not the boring housework.

And one last word. Many people say that lazy people are often the best employees, because they find the most efficient way to complete a task. That's the way you need to think when you're cleaning. Good luck!

4.14 2 Shopping online

All major chain stores and many other shops sell online, and a lot of people prefer going to their website than the actual shop. The first time you use a site you usually have to create an account, where you give your personal details. Then you choose what you want to buy, and click on each item.

Everything you buy goes in your basket, usually at the top right of the page. When you are ready to pay you click on 'proceed to checkout'. You then have to give the delivery address where you want them to send your things. You can usually pay extra for next-day delivery – standard delivery is sometimes free. Then you choose how you want to pay, for example with a credit or debit card or with PayPal, and give your payment details, for example your credit card number and expiry date. Finally you confirm your payment and receive a reference number and a confirmation email. And then you wait! Many people also buy and sell things online at auction sites like eBay.

A How many did you get?

B Five, I think. Yes, five.

A And are you happy with them?

B Yes. They were about £5.00 each, and delivery was another £5.00, so that was £30.00 for five T-shirts.

I spend much less time [bleep] – that is going to real shops – than in the past because now I get so much online. I buy most of my food online – everything except fresh things like meat or fruit and vegetables. Er, I get books from Amazon, I buy a lot of clothes online. And it's so quick. You don't have to go there, you don't spend as long looking for what you want. It's just much, much quicker. I definitely prefer it.

One of the things that has changed for me is [bleep]. It takes me much longer now because I cycle. A few years ago I drove, I took the car, but then I decided to cycle, not always because I enjoy it, but because I know it's healthier. It takes me about half an hour to get to work now. Actually when the weather's good I really enjoy it, but when it's raining or just cold and horrible, I get up and I think oh no!

3

I definitely spend a lot more time [bleep] now than I did before, I think because, er, about a year ago I started living with my boyfriend. When I lived alone, in the evening I was tired and I just got a takeaway or made something really quickly or just had some bread and cheese or whatever was in the fridge, whatever was easier. But when you have someone else in the house you feel more like cooking. And also my boyfriend's a vegetarian so it's a bit more complicated to do something very quick. So before I spent about 20 minutes a day and now I spend about an hour. But I'm quite happy with that, I enjoy it.

4

I probably spend about the same amount of time [bleep] as I did three years ago. I'm a freelance writer now and three years ago I had an office job so I was doing, you know, 35 hours a week. Now some weeks I probably work about 50 hours and others 20 hours but on average I think it's about the same.

5

I definitely spend less time [bleep] because two years ago we moved to the country from the city – and most of our friends are in the city and they're quite a long way away from us now. ### 5.13

I = Interviewer, O = Oliver

I Today we're talking about a very interesting experiment to find the most and least honest cities in the world. It involved journalists travelling to 16 cities and 'losing' 12 wallets in each city, then waiting to see how many people returned them in each place. Our presenter Oliver has got the results. So, Oliver, which was the most honest city?

O Well, in first place was Helsinki, in Finland. People returned 11 of the 12 wallets. A businessman, who found the wallet in the city centre, said that Finnish people were naturally honest. He said there was very little corruption in Finland, and that people didn't even drive through red traffic lights!

I Really? And the least honest?

O Well, I was quite surprised by this, but the least honest city, in 16th place, was Lisbon in Portugal. Only one person phoned to say they'd found the wallet. And he wasn't Portuguese, he was a 60-year-old tourist from Holland.

I Interesting! What other results surprised you?

O Well, I expected richer cities, cities with a higher standard of living, to be more honest than poorer ones, but this wasn't necessarily true. The city that came second in the experiment was Mumbai in India – people returned 9 out of the 12 wallets. One of them was a young mother. She took it to a post office and she said 'I teach my children to be honest, just like my parents taught me.'

I And which city came next?

O In joint third place were New York and Budapest. People gave back 8 wallets in both places.

I And then?

O Moscow and Amsterdam came joint 5th. In both places 7 out of 12 wallets were returned. And people gave lovely reasons for returning them. In Moscow a woman said 'I think that people need to help each other, and if I can make someone a little happier, I want to do it.' And in Amsterdam a man said 'My wife once lost her wallet. It was found and returned. So I wanted to do the same.'

I I notice my home city, London, is on the list. How did it do?

O London was somewhere in the middle, joint 9th with Warsaw. Just 5 of the wallets were returned in each place. Interestingly one of the people who returned a wallet in London was a Polish woman. When she found the wallet, she gave it to her boss. He – her boss – said to her, 'if you find money you can't be sure it belongs to a rich man – it might be the last bit of money a mother has to feed her family.'

I I think that's fantastic advice. So were there any general conclusions? What did the experiment prove?

O 47 per cent of the wallets were returned, so that's nearly half. And when we looked through the results we found that you couldn't predict who was going to be honest or dishonest. There was no common factor. Young people and old people both kept or returned wallets; men and women both kept or returned wallets; and as I said before, it didn't make any difference whether a city was rich or poor. So our conclusion was that there are honest and dishonest people everywhere.

At least half of your daily liquids should come from water. About one-third (or three to four cups) can come from coffee or tea – but with no sugar. Low-fat milk can make up another 20 per cent. If you drink less milk, just try to get your calcium from another type of food or drink, for example green vegetables. You can have one small glass of fruit juice a day, and no more than 1 to 2 alcoholic drinks for men or 1 for women. However, some doctors now think that it's a good idea to have several alcohol-free days a week. Diet drinks which use artificial sweeteners are not good for you, but up to 1 to 2 glasses a day is OK. But try not to have any drinks with a lot of sugar, for example sweet fizzy drinks.

Today's topic is 'positive thinking'. We all know that people who are positive enjoy life more than people who are negative and pessimistic. But scientific studies show that positive people are also healthier. They get better more quickly when they are ill, and they live longer. A recent study has shown that people who are optimistic and think positively live, on average, nine years longer than pessimistic people. So, let's hear what you the listeners think. Do you have any ideas to help us be more positive in our lives?

6.8

Presenter Our first caller this evening is Andy. Hi, Andy. What's your tip for being positive?

Andy Hello. Well, I think it's very important to live in the present, not in the past. Don't think about mistakes you made in the past – you can't change things now. The important thing is to think about how you can do things better now and in the future.

Presenter Thank you, Andy. And now we have another caller. What's your name, please?

Julie Hi, my name's Julie. My tip is think positive thoughts, not negative ones. We all have negative thoughts sometimes, but when we start having them we need to stop and try to change them into positive ones. Like, if you have an exam tomorrow and you start thinking 'I'm sure I'll fail', then you'll fail the exam. So you need to change that negative thought to a positive thought. Just think to yourself 'I'll pass that exam'. I do this and it usually works.

Presenter Thank you, Julie. And our next caller is Martin. Hi, Martin.

Martin Hi. My tip is don't spend a lot of time following the news online or on TV. It's always bad news and it just makes you feel depressed. Read a book or listen to your favourite music instead, and you won't feel so bad.

Presenter Thanks, Martin. Good tip! And our next caller is Miriam. Miriam?

Miriam Hi.

Student's Book Audioscript

- Presenter Hi, Miriam. What's your tip?
- Miriam Every week, make a list of all the good things that happened to you, on your phone or on a piece of paper. Then if you're feeling a bit sad or depressed, read the list and it'll make you feel better.
- Presenter Thanks, Miriam. And our last call is from Michael. Hi, Michael. We're listening.
- Michael Hi. I think it's good to try to use positive language when you speak to other people. You know, if your friend has a problem, don't say 'I'm sorry' or 'Oh, poor you', say something positive like, 'Don't worry! Everything'll be OK.' That way you'll make the other person think more positively about their problem.
- Presenter Thank you, Michael. Well that's all we've got time for. A big thank you to all our callers.

Lesson 6B*6.9

- Presenter Earlier this year, ten years after Steve sent the letter, some builders were renovating the living room in Carmen's mother's house in Spain. When they were working on the fireplace they found Steve's letter. They gave it to Carmen's sister, and she sent the letter to Carmen in Paris. Carmen was now 42, and she was still single.

- Carmen When I got the letter I didn't call Steve immediately because I was so nervous. I kept picking up the phone and putting it down again. I nearly didn't phone him at all. But I knew that I had to make the call.

- Presenter Carmen finally made the call and Steve answered the phone. He was also now 42 and he was also single.

- Steve I couldn't believe it when she phoned. I've just moved house, but luckily I kept my old phone number.

- Presenter Steve and Carmen arranged to meet in Paris a few days later.

- Steve When we met it was like a film. We ran across the airport and into each other's arms. Within 30 seconds of seeing each other again we were kissing. We fell in love all over again.

- Presenter Last week the couple got married, 17 years after they first met.

- Carmen I never got married in all those years, but now I have married the man I've always loved.

6.14

Doctor So, tell me, what did you dream about?

Patient I was at a party. The room was full of people.

Doctor What were they doing?

Patient They were drinking and talking.

Doctor Were you drinking?

Patient Yes, I was drinking champagne.

Doctor And then what happened?

Patient Then, suddenly I was in a garden. There were a lot of flowers...

Doctor Flowers, yes... what kind of flowers?

Student's Book Audioscript

Patient I couldn't see – it was a bit dark. And I could hear music – somebody was playing the violin.

Doctor The violin? Go on.

Patient And then I saw an owl, a really big owl in a tree ...

Doctor How did you feel? Were you frightened of it?

Patient No, not frightened really, no, but I remember I felt incredibly cold. Especially my feet – they were freezing. And then I woke up.

Doctor Your feet? Mmm, very interesting, very interesting. Were you wearing any shoes?

Patient No, no I wasn't.

Doctor Tell me, have you ever had this dream before?

Patient No, never. So, what does it mean, Doctor?

6.15

Patient So what does it mean, Doctor?

Doctor Well, first the party. A party is a group of people. This means that you're going to meet a lot of people. I think you're going to be very busy.

Patient At work?

Doctor Yes, at work ... you work in an office, I think?

Patient Yes, that's right.

Doctor I think the party means you're going to have a lot of meetings.

Patient What about the champagne?

Doctor Let me look at my notes again. Ah yes, you were drinking champagne. Champagne means a celebration. It's a symbol of success. So we have a meeting or meetings and then a celebration. Maybe in the future you'll have a meeting with your boss, about a possible promotion?

Patient Well, it's possible. I hope so ... What about the garden and the flowers? Do they mean anything?

Doctor Yes. Flowers are a positive symbol. So, the flowers mean that you are feeling positive about the future. So perhaps you already knew about this possible promotion?

Patient No, I didn't. But it's true, I am very happy at work and I feel very positive about my future. That's not where my problems are. My problems are with my love life. Does my dream tell you anything about that?

Doctor Mm, yes it does. You're single, aren't you?

Patient Yes, well, divorced.

Doctor Because the violin music tells me you want some romance in your life – you're looking for a partner perhaps?

Patient Yes, yes, I am. In fact I met a woman last month – I really like her... I think I'm in love with her. I'm meeting her tonight.

Doctor In your dream you saw an owl in a tree?

Patient Yes, an owl ... a big owl.

Doctor The owl represents an older person. I think you'll need to ask this older person for help. Maybe this 'older person' is me? Maybe you need my help?

Patient Well, yes, what I really want to know is does this person, this woman ... love me?

6.16

Patient Well, yes, what I really want to know is does this person, this woman ... love me?

Doctor You remember the end of your dream? You were feeling cold?

Patient Yes, my feet were very cold.

Doctor Well ... I think perhaps you already know the answer to your question.

Patient You mean she doesn't love me.

Doctor No, I don't think so. I think you will need to find another woman. I'm sorry. Perhaps you can find someone ...

P Yes, I do. I had a really, really awful teacher at high school for history, and she was always really mean. And when I finished high school, I always dreamed that she would say, 'You will never pass your A levels'. And now I always dream of the same teacher from high school telling me, 'You will never finish your degree,' so that's kind of weird, yeah.

Simon

When I was about 30, I got a job as an editor in a publishing company. It was my first office job, and um I didn't really know what to wear, but, um, for the interview I wore a suit, in fact I bought the suit specially for the interview. I got the job so I thought that must be OK, so um on the first day I went to work wearing a suit and a tie. I got to work early, um, I wanted to make a good impression, and I was the first person in the office, so I went in, I found my desk, with my name on it, and I sat down and there were a few papers and documents for me to read, so I started reading those. I turned on my computer, and after about ten, fifteen minutes the other people in the office started to arrive and I noticed that nobody else was wearing a suit, and I thought, OK it's not a big problem. So I introduced myself to the other people, I said 'Hello, how are you? Hello, pleased to meet you' and the next thing someone said to me was 'My computer's really slow, do you think you know what the problem is?' and I said 'No, no, not really.' So then I introduced myself to somebody else and said 'Hello, nice to meet you' and she replied 'Hello, nice to meet you' and then she said 'Do you know how I can connect my computer to the printer?' and I said 'No, I have no idea how to do that.' Anyway I went back to work and about half an hour later I had a meeting with my boss, and she said 'How's it going?' and I said 'Yeah, it's all good, everybody seems really nice. Just one thing, why does everybody think I can fix their computer?' and she looked at me and what I was wearing and she said 'It's your suit. Nobody in this office ever wears a suit, so they think you're from the IT department and you've come to help with a computer problem. They're the only ones who wear suits!' So I never wore it again. To this day.

It was my first day at work as a teacher at a language school, and they asked me to come the first week of term to observe some teachers, to watch their lessons, and then I was going to start teaching the following week. But when I arrived there, they told me that one of the teachers was ill and they asked me to take the class, and it was three-year-old kids! So I was in a class with about ten three-year-olds who were running around – my boss gave me a story book to read to them, but the kids couldn't speak any English. I'd never taught – never been trained to teach children that small. I tried to read the book to two of them, but the others were running around shouting and hitting each other, and at the worst possible moment, just when all of them were being really noisy and not doing anything I was telling them to, my boss – the director of the school – opened the door and just looked at me. I felt terrible but then she said 'These children are too young for you, aren't they?' and I said yes, I was nearly crying. Luckily after that she never gave me any classes with really young children, but it was the most stressful class I've ever tried to teach.

The capital city of Estonia, Tallinn, is one of the most beautiful cities on the Baltic coast. It's one of the world's 'smart cities', which means that technology plays an important role in people's lives and in business.

But some people in Tallin are using the internet for something very unusual. It's called the Bank of Happiness, but it's a very different kind of bank. Nobody pays money into the bank, and the bank doesn't lend money to anybody. Instead, the Bank of Happiness is a forum where thousands of people from Estonia, and other countries too, connect with each other, and they offer or receive services completely free of charge.

Here's how it works: you register and then you post what you're offering or what you need – it's really easy. For example, people offer to do the shopping for somebody, or walk their dog. Other people post things like 'I need someone who can fix my car' or 'Can anybody translate an email into French for me?' But the most important thing is that nobody pays any money. Everything is free.

The bank was started over five years ago by a 39-year-old Estonian woman called Airi Kivi. She's a psychologist and a family therapist, and her goal was to make people think and act with their hearts.

Airi

I thought, we need something like this Bank of Happiness, where people can meet each other and help each other – do something cool. The Estonian economy was also having problems at the time. A little bit later, I thought, wow, the Bank of Happiness is perfect for this economic crisis. A lot of people are unemployed and they can use our bank. In the Bank of Happiness people don't need to pay each other back. For example, a teenager will do the shopping for his old neighbour, and maybe the neighbour can't do anything for him in return. But then perhaps the neighbour will post a comment on the site and tell people about what the teenager did, and then another person, who sees this, will probably do something to help the teenager. The principle of the Bank is that it's not money and things that make people happy. What really makes them happy is doing things for other people.

7.12

There were four tests for me to complete in Madrid. I had to order a drink and a sandwich in a bar, ask the price, and understand it. Then I had to ask for directions in the street, and follow them, then get a taxi to a famous place, and finally phone somebody and leave a message on their voicemail.

There were just three rules. You mustn't use a dictionary or phrase book app, you must only speak Spanish and you mustn't use your hands or mime or write anything down.

Journalist Paula took me to my hotel and that evening we went to the centre of Madrid and it was time for my first test. I had to order a sandwich and a drink in a bar then ask for the bill. I sat down at the bar and I tried to order a beer and a ham sandwich. Por favor, una cerveza y un bocadillo de jamon.

Waiter

Journalist

Fantastic! The waiter understood me first time. My pronunciation wasn't perfect, but I got my beer and my sandwich. I really enjoyed it. But then the more difficult bit. Asking for the bill... Cuanto es?

Waiter

Journalist

Como?

Waiter

Seis noventa.

Journalist

Six ninety. I understood! Paula gave me eight points for the test. I was very happy with that. Next we went out into the street. Test number 2 was asking for directions and (very important!) understanding them. We were in a narrow street and I had to stop someone and ask them for the nearest chemist, una farmacia. I stopped a woman. At first I didn't understand anything she said!

Passer-by

Siga todo recto y tome la segunda por la derecha. Hay una farmacia en esa calle.

Journalist

I asked the woman to speak more slowly.

Passer-by

Todo recto y tome la segunda calle por la derecha DERECHA.

Journalist

I got it this time, I think. The second street on the right. I followed the directions and guess what? There was a chemist there! Seven points from Paula.

Student's Book Audioscript

Test number three. I wasn't looking forward to this one. I had to get a taxi to a famous place in Madrid. Paula wrote down the name of the place on a piece of paper. It was the name of the football stadium where Real Madrid play. We stopped a taxi.

Journalist

El Bernabeu, por favor.

Taxi driver

Que? Adonde?

Journalist

He didn't understand me. I tried again but he still didn't understand. I was desperate so I said Real Madrid, Stadium, football.

Taxi driver

Ah, El Santiago Bernabeu.

Journalist

Finally! Paula only gave me five because I ended up using English. Still, at least I made the taxi driver understand where I wanted to go. And so to the final test. I had to leave a message in Spanish on somebody's voicemail. I had to give my name, spell it, and ask the person to call me back. Paula gave me the number (it was one of her friends called Lola) and I dialled. I was feeling a bit nervous at this point, because speaking on the phone in a foreign language is never easy.

Lola

Deje su mensaje despues de la señal.

Journalist

Er. Buenas noches. Soy Max. Max. M-A- X. Er... Por favor... llamarme esta noche.... Oh yes... a las 8.30 er, gracias. Well, my grammar wasn't right but I left the message. Half an hour later, at half past eight Lola phoned me. Success! Paula gave me eight points. That was the end of my four tests. Paula was pleased with me. My final score was seven. I was quite happy with that. So how much can you learn in a month? Well, of course you can't learn Spanish in a month but you can learn enough to survive if you are on holiday or on a trip. Now I want to go back to England and try and learn some more. Adios!

Lesson 8A

8.1

Hi Tracey,

You know the answer to your last question, and it's 'yes'. You're making your life more difficult. But it's also true that having a long-term relationship with anyone is difficult, and in your case you can at least see what some of the problems are. I'm sure this man loves you and will support you in all your goals in life, but it's true that he's already done all the things you want to do. It's not his fault, but it means that he'll never get as excited as you about, for example, a wedding or having another child. And everything you experience together, he'll probably compare to the last time he did it. You should think carefully about what kind of partner you really want: someone who can support you and show you the way in life, or someone who will discover life with you. You shouldn't make a decision in a hurry. When you're clearer about what you want, then you can decide if you're going to stay with this man or not. Good luck!

8.2

- 1 You should leave your boyfriend.
She's very stressed. She shouldn't work so hard.
You shouldn't drink coffee in the evening. It'll keep you awake.
- 2 I think you should get a new job.
I don't think you should speak to him.

- Annabel Hello. I'm Annabel.
- Peter And I'm Peter.
- Expert Hi there, Annabel and Peter. What's your problem?
- Annabel We've got a son, Jamie, and he's 25. He's a chef.
- Peter But he still lives with us because he says it's too expensive to rent a flat and he doesn't earn enough money.
- Annabel He gives us some money every month for bills – not much, but a bit – and you know it's nice to have him at home, but we think he needs to be more independent.
- Peter Yes, absolutely.
- Annabel But last week he told us that he's planning a two-week holiday to Mexico with his friends. I mean, it's true that he works full time and we know he needs a break, but we really think...
- Peter Yes, we don't think he should go on an expensive holiday when he doesn't give us much money. We think he should save his money so that he can get his own place to live. Should we tell him that he can't go to Mexico?

Student's Book Audioscript*8.6*Expert

You know, to be honest I think you're being a bit hard on him. I mean he's only 25. It's good that he has a job and everybody needs a holiday.

My advice is that you should let him go to Mexico, but when he comes back you should sit down with him and talk to him about starting to pay rent. That way he'll understand that he needs to start planning for the future and to start thinking about renting a flat. But I know from talking to other parents that there are a lot of young people still living at home in their 20s and 30s, and some of them don't even have jobs. So in many ways I think you're lucky.

Annabel

You see? That's just what I think...

8.7

Nick Hi there. I'm Nick.

Expert Hi, Nick. So what's your problem?

Nick Well, I've been with my girlfriend for three years. We have a really great relationship although we're quite different. She's clever and popular and I'm, er, quiet and hardworking. Anyway, now she wants to move to London, because she thinks she can get a better job there, and she wants me to go to London too –you know, London's much more exciting than Bolton, where we live now. But I have a good job in Bolton and I get a good salary. I mean the idea of moving and having a new life is like a dream, but for me that's what it is, I mean it's a dream, it isn't real. What should I do? Should I follow my heart and move to London with her? Or should I stay here where I know I have a good job, but possibly lose my girlfriend?

8.8*Expert

I think you should sit down together and talk about your dreams for the future, and see if they are the same dreams. If they are, and you can see a future together, then the first thing is for her to look for a job in London. If she finds one, then maybe she can move there first and you can go at weekends and see how you feel about life there.

Nick

Thanks a lot for that. I think that's really good advice.

8.9

Jane Hello. My name's Jane.

Expert Hi Jane. So, why are you calling?

Jane Well, a month ago my friend Susan and I decided to go on holiday together this summer, to Turkey. So we planned everything and, er, I was really looking forward to it as Susan's an old friend and I don't see her very often. But the other day she told me that she was telling another friend of hers about our holiday, somebody I don't know, a woman called Angie, and Angie was really interested, and now Susan has invited her to come, too. Susan never asked me what I thought! I don't even know Angie, and I really don't want to go on holiday with someone I don't know. What should I do?

8.10*Expert

I think your friend has been a bit insensitive and she's put you in a difficult position. You have several different options. You could say that you aren't going if Angie goes, but then you'll put Susan in a difficult position. Or you could just cancel, and suggest having another holiday later with just the two of you. Or you could invite someone else who you like, and then there would be four of you, which is sometimes a better number than three. But in fact you don't know Angie and maybe you'll like her. So I think you should try to get to know her first. If you like her, then the holiday will probably be a success. If not, then you should tell your friend you aren't going, because you don't think it will work with Angie. You know, a bad holiday is worse than no holiday.

Student's Book Audioscript

Peter wanted to get a job

Peter

I did maths at university and normally, after doing maths at university, people get a job in a bank or in IT, but when I finished it was the recession and it was very difficult to get a job. I was unemployed for quite a long time. I was looking for jobs, and I applied for lots of different jobs, but they just answered 'sorry, we don't want you', and I was getting a bit depressed. This went on for about four months and then one day I was on a number 49 bus in London – I can even remember where I was sitting – and my phone rang. I said hello, and a woman said 'Hello, you applied for a job with us a few months ago. Are you still interested?' So I said yes, absolutely, I'm very interested. So then she said 'we'd like you to come for an interview'... and then at that moment we got cut off because the bus went into a tunnel. And the phone number wasn't on my phone – it just said 'unknown number', and I couldn't remember what the name of the company was because I'd applied for so many jobs. So I thought 'four months of nothing and then when they ring I get cut off'. Luckily they called back the next day, and in the end I had an interview, and I got the job.

Sue wanted to see a tiger

Sue

This happened when I was at a conference in Thailand. The conference hotel was amazing, it was in a beautiful national park called Khao Yai, north of Bangkok. We were very busy with talks and meetings most of the time, but we had one free morning, and we could choose from different trips or activities. I was interested in either a trip to see birds or a trip to see a tiger. A tiger, not tigers, because they told us that there was only one tiger in the whole park! Well, I chose the tiger trip, because I thought it would be really cool to see a tiger in the wild. But we had to leave really early in the morning, because we had to travel quite a long way to the part of the park where the tiger usually was – the bird trip was nearer the hotel. So we tiger-watchers got up at 5.00 in the morning, but our guide said that we probably wouldn't see the tiger, because you know, there was only one tiger. We finally got there and we spent the whole morning looking for the tiger, but no luck. But we saw some nice birds, and it was fun, so when we got back to the conference hotel, we felt we'd had a really good morning. But then the other group got back, the ones who went to see the birds, and of course they saw lots of amazing birds, but they also saw the tiger! I suppose that day it wasn't in its usual part of the park. And I thought isn't that typical – you go on the tiger trip and you don't see the tiger, but the people on the bird trip see the tiger!

Detective "Here is the address."

Reader Hartley took the piece of paper. On it were the words "Vivienne Arlington, number 341 East 49th Street".

Detective "She moved there a week ago,"

Reader said the detective.

Detective "I can follow her if you want. It will only cost you $7 a day and expenses..."

Hartley "No, thank you,"

Reader interrupted Hartley.

Hartley "I only wanted the address. How much is it?"

Detective "One day's work,"

Reader said the detective.

Detective "Ten dollars."

Reader Hartley paid the man. Then he left his office and took a tram to Broadway. After walking a short distance he arrived at the building that he was looking for. He went up the stairs into her apartment and saw her standing by the window. Vivienne was about twenty-one. Her hair was red gold, and her eyes were sea-blue. She was wearing a white top and a dark skirt.

Hartley "Vivienne,"

Hartley "My dear girl,"
Reader said Hartley,
Hartley "You will have everything that you want. You can come to the city for the theatre, for shopping, and to visit your friends as often as you want. You can trust me, can't you?"
Vivienne "I can trust you completely,"
Reader she said, smiling at him.
Vivienne "I know you are the kindest of men, and that the girl who you get will be very lucky. I heard all about you when I was at the Montgomerys'."
Hartley "Ah!"
Reader exclaimed Hartley,

Hartley "I remember so well the evening I first saw you at the Montgomerys'. I will never forget that dinner. Come on, Vivienne, promise me. I want you. Nobody else will ever give you such a happy home."

Reader Vivienne didn't answer. Suddenly Hartley was suspicious.
Hartley "Tell me, Vivienne, is there..."
Reader he asked,
Hartley "...is there someone else?"
Vivienne "You shouldn't ask that, Mr. Hartley,"
Reader she said.
Vivienne "But I will tell you. There is one other person...but I haven't promised him anything."
Hartley "Vivienne,"
Reader said Hartley masterfully.
Hartley "You must be mine."
Reader Vivienne looked him in the eye.

Vivienne "my answer is yes. I will be yours."

I What's your idea of happiness?
S That's a difficult question. Um, my idea of happiness is probably relaxing with friends in my home, listening to nice music, with lovely food for everyone.

I = interviewer, T = Tarquin
I What foreign languages do you speak?
T I speak French.
I How well do you speak it?
T Quite well. Not fluently, but well enough to get around.
- 3
I = interviewer, K = Katelyn
I If you have a problem, who do you ask for advice, friends or family?

- K When I have a problem, I usually ask close friends for advice.
I Why?
K My parents are a lot older than me, so their advice is really great for certain things, but most of the things I'm going through right now, my friends are pretty good.

I = interviewer, J = Joseph

- I What advice would you give someone who can't sleep at night?
J If someone couldn't sleep at night, I'd usually advise them to do something like meditation, so some kind of breathing exercises which would calm them down, um, and also just to be in an environment where they feel comfortable and safe I guess, rather than in an environment that stresses them out, maybe keep their phone out of the bedroom, or something like that.

I = interviewer, A = Alison

A I think we do tend to be rather bad at learning languages.
I Why?
A I think we can be a bit lazy, because everybody else speaks English.

9.4*Presenter

So David, what are the five most dangerous animals in the UK? Can you tell us in reverse order, I mean starting with the 5th most dangerous?

David

Yes, of course. At number five is a snake, the adder. The adder is the only poisonous snake in the UK. They can be about one metre long and they're quite common in some parts of the UK. They don't normally attack people, except when people step on them by accident. A bite from an adder can be very painful, and, occasionally, can kill. However the last death from an adder bite was more than 40 years ago.

Student's Book Audioscript

Presenter And number four?

David The fourth most dangerous animals in the UK are cows. People think cows are slow and a bit stupid, but in fact cows kill at least one person every year. However, nearly all attacks happen when people are walking dogs in a field of cows, and they usually happen in spring or early summer when young cows are with their mothers. So that's when you need to be careful.

Presenter And third?

David In third place are red deer. These are large animals – they can weigh 100 kg. You need to be especially careful in the autumn, when the male deer can get very aggressive. They also cause frequent accidents on the road by running out in front of cars– there are about 50,000 car accidents a year which involve deer.

Presenter And in second place?

David Dogs. They are responsible for around 200,000 attacks a year in the UK, although most of them aren't serious and very few actually cause death. Certain breeds of dog like German shepherds, Rottweilers, and Pit Bulls, are more aggressive than others. One reason for this is that they were traditionally hunting dogs or guard dogs. Dog attacks can happen at any time, and some dogs even attack their owners.

Presenter And in first place?

David Wasps and bees. They cause more deaths in the UK than any other type of animal or insect. About five people a year die from bee or wasp stings, and it's nearly always because they have an allergic reaction. About 25% of the population in the UK have a bee or wasp allergy, some more serious than others. However, people are usually allergic to either bees or wasps, but not both. Bees and wasps only sting in self-defence or when they're provoked, but wasps are more aggressive than bees. So if you ever see a wasp nest in your garden, make sure you call a professional to come and destroy it.

Presenter Definitely. Well David, that was certainly...

9.5

- 1 A If a cow attacked me, I'd run away.
B If she didn't have a dog, she wouldn't do any exercise.
A Would you go for a swim if there were sharks in the sea?
- 2 B If I had more time, I'd do more exercise.
A I'd do more exercise if I had more time.
- 3 If we went by car, we could stop at places on the way.

9.6

- Interviewer Do you have any phobias?
- Julia Yes, I'm very, very scared of spiders.
- Interviewer And how long have you had this phobia?
- Julia I've had it since I was about 12, so for more than 30 years.
- Interviewer Did something happen to start the phobia?
- Julia I remember – and it's when I think I started being frightened – I remember a very big spider in the flat that we lived in at the time coming out from under the television and going across the room, and me being absolutely terrified, and that's the first time I remember being scared.
- Interviewer How does it affect your life?
- Julia In the past it was really awful. I mean I couldn't sit in the same room as a spider, and I always had to keep all the doors and windows shut because I was frightened that spiders might come in. But I had some therapy, and I can now sit in the same room as a spider, not for long, it still has to be moved, and I can put it in a glass now and take it outside myself, if I have to, if there's nobody else there, so it doesn't affect me as badly as it did before, but I still don't like them...
- Interviewer What kind of therapy did you have? How long did it take?
- Julia Probably about six weeks. I went to the therapist's office and he used a kind of hypnosis. He made me go back to that first incident with the spider and the TV and we talked about it again and again until it wasn't so frightening, and then in the last session he brought in a spider in a jar, into the room and he made me hold the jar – I couldn't put the spider on my hand, but that was a great improvement, because before I couldn't even look at a drawing of a spider in a children's book, and I certainly couldn't look at photos of spiders.

Interviewer Wow. Amazing.

- Chloe
- Interviewer Do you have any phobias?
- Chloe Erm yes, I have a phobia of buttons.
- Interviewer Buttons on clothes?
- Chloe Yes. I don't like touching them.
- Interviewer And how long have you had the phobia?
- Chloe All my life I think. For as long as I can remember.
- Interviewer Do you know what happened to start the phobia?
- Chloe I don't know exactly but my mum has told me that when I was very little, about six or seven months old, she tried to dress me in a cardigan, a woollen cardigan with buttons that my grandmother had made for me, and apparently I screamed and screamed until she took it off again.
- Interviewer OK. And how does the phobia affect your life?
- Chloe It really affects the kind of clothes I can buy, especially in the winter when I need a coat – there aren't many coats that don't have buttons. But it's better than it was, when I was younger I refused to wear anything that had buttons, so for example my mother had to adapt my school uniform so that there were no buttons.

Student's Book Audioscript

Interviewer Have you had any therapy?

Chloe No, no. I haven't had any therapy. It seems such a silly thing to be afraid of.

Interviewer What about if other people are wearing clothes with buttons on, is that OK?

Chloe Well, if the buttons aren't touching me that's fine, but I don't like hugging people that have buttons on their clothes.

Good evening and welcome to Family, the programme where we discuss issues concerning parents and children. Last week we talked about children following their parents into the same job, and whether children of celebrities have an easier life than other children. Today we're going to look at a celebrity son who did something different, and has been successful without the help of his famous father. Duncan Jones may not be a name you recognize if you're not a serious cinema fan. Duncan Jones is his real name, but when he was very young, he was called Zowie Bowie. His father was the famous singer David Bowie, whose real surname was Jones. Zowie was actually Duncan's middle name.

Duncan was born in the UK in 1971. When he was nine his parents divorced, and Duncan stayed with his father. He continued to visit his mother, David Bowie's first wife Angie, until he was 13, but their relationship wasn't a happy one and he hasn't seen her since then.

When he was a child Duncan wasn't interested in music. His father tried and tried to get him to learn an instrument, the drums, the saxophone, and the piano, but Duncan just wasn't interested – he was more interested in sport, and in films. So, his father bought him a little 8 mm video camera, and he used it to make films with his Star Wars toys.

After he left school Duncan went to the London Film School and studied to be a film director.

In the early years of his career Duncan directed TV commercials, for example for the fashion label French Connection, and Heinz ketchup, and he also worked on video games.

In 2006 he made his first film, called Moon, a science fiction drama, which was a great success. He won many awards for the film, including the prize for best new British director.

Since then he has made many more successful films, including Source Code, a science fiction thriller starring Jake Gyllenhaal, and Warcraft, based on the game World of Warcraft.

Duncan has said that one of the reasons why he went into film directing was that he wanted to be behind the camera, not in front of it. As a child there were often paparazzi around, which he hated. Even now, as a successful film director, he doesn't like being photographed.

Although, as he says, 'I've never needed to use my father's name', Duncan was very close to his father all his life and was with him when he died, in January 2016. He said of him 'He was a wonderful father who encouraged me to be creative, but different.'

Jenny I waited for an hour for you. I don't want to stay here anymore.

Rob Maybe we could... we could go for a walk. We could find another restaurant.

10.7

Tim Powell isn't a morning person. Which is surprising, because on weekdays he gets up very early. While most of us are still asleep, Powell wakes up at 5.45, does exercise for 30 minutes in his home gym, and has a big breakfast. Then he gets ready for work and drives to the office. When he gets to the building where he works, he goes for a walk around a local park, then he goes inside to start work at 9. And on Thursdays he gets up even earlier, at 5.20 a.m., to study German.

Powell is a lawyer. He works 70 hours a week, and he says that getting up early helps him to do more during the day. He isn't the only one – many busy, successful people get up very early.

10.8

Experts agree that getting up early is a big help if you have a lot of things to do. There are three main reasons for this. The first reason why it's good to get up early is that the early morning is quiet. Nobody phones you at 6.00 a.m. There aren't any important emails or messages to answer. There aren't any meetings. There aren't any people. The morning is your time.

The second reason is that if you get up early, you go to bed early. Most people don't do anything useful in the evenings. People who go to bed late spend many hours watching TV, seeing their friends, and spending time on social media. So if you want to do a lot, it's better to go to bed early, and have shorter evenings and longer mornings.

The third reason is that it's better to do things in the morning, when you have energy. Most people are tired after a day at work or college. And when you're tired, the last thing you want to do is to exercise, or to study, or to practise a musical instrument.

And if you find it impossible to get up early? Set your alarm five minutes earlier than you usually get up.

And the next day set it five minutes earlier again.

After three weeks you'll have nearly two hours that you never had before!

The thirteenth century

Guns were invented by the Chinese. The first guns were quite large, like small cannons. The oldest gun that still exists today was made in about 1280.

Glasses were invented by the Italians in about 1286. Sunglasses were invented even earlier, in the twelfth century.

The eighteenth century

The hot-air balloon was invented by two French brothers, Joseph and Jacques Montgolfier. The first flight with people was in 1783, and the balloon flew 3 km over Paris.

The nineteenth century

Stamps were invented by an English teacher, Rowland Hill. The first stamp, from 1840, was called the Penny Black, and it showed the head of the young Queen Victoria.

The saxophone was invented by a Belgian musician in 1846. His name was Adolphe Sax. Saxophones were first used mainly in military bands, but are now used in all kinds of music.

Dynamite was invented by a Swedish scientist called Alfred Nobel. The Nobel Prize is named after him. Since its invention, it has been used all over the world for demolition, for making tunnels, cutting canals, and building railways.

The wrist watch was invented by the Swiss. The first one was made for a Hungarian countess by Patek Philippe in 1868, a company which still makes luxury watches today.

The twentieth century

The mobile phone was invented by the Americans. It was first produced by the company Motorola. On 3 April 1973, Martin Cooper, a Motorola researcher and executive, made the first mobile telephone call. His phone weighed 1.1 kg.

Lego was invented by a Danish businessman, Ole Kirk Christiansen. The name Lego comes from the Danish phrase leg godt, which means 'play well'. 20 billion pieces of Lego are produced every year.

CDs were invented by a Dutch company, Philips. Sony also worked on CDs, and they were designed to play 74 minutes of music because that was the length of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony – the Sony boss's favourite piece of music.

Student's Book Audioscript*5

T OK, Act 3 scene 1. OK Jack you can be Hamlet.
This is a very important speech. Are you ready?

S Yes. To be or not to be, that is the question.
Whether...

6

T So I have a small piece of sodium here, about one cubic centimetre, and we're going to see what happens when we add it to water. So if you could all stand back a bit...further back...OK...here we go...

7

T Today we're going to look at two self-portraits from different centuries. Take a look at these.

S The one on the right looks like you, sir!

T Thank you, Jasper. Now I want you to start by thinking about two questions. When do you think the self-portraits were painted? And how old do you think the artists were when they painted them?

8

T OK, we're going to warm up first, I want you to run round the track three times.

SS Can't we play football?

T No, come on, three times round the track, ready, steady, go.

9

T There are no active volcanoes in the UK, but there are quite a lot in the rest of Europe. Can anyone tell me a European country that has active volcanoes?

S1 France?

T Not France, no...

S2 Italy? Italy has Mount Etna.

T Yes, Italy. In fact Etna is the highest active volcano in Europe, at over 3,300 metres.

T OK so now repeat after me. du pain

SS du pain

T de la salade

2 maths

T So last week we looked at percentages, and today we're going to look at fractions. Can someone give me an example of a fraction?

S Three quarters?

T Yes, exactly. And what would that be as a percentage?

S 75%.
3 history

T Can anybody tell me the dates of the First World War?

S Me sir, me sir!

T Angela?

S 1939 to 1945 Sir.

T No, that's the Second World War. Try again.

4 IT

T So we're going to start by defining a few words and phrases. I'm going to dictate the terms and I want you write a short definition. So for example if I said the word cookies, what would you write?

S1 Biscuits?

T Very funny Carl. Anna?

S2 Er, pieces of text that, er, websites put onto your computer?

T That's right. And what do internet cookies do?

Interviewer Did you like school?

M I didn't hate school, but I don't think I liked it very much. I used to enjoy PE, I used to enjoy sport, um, I quite liked English but there were lots of subjects I didn't like, I didn't like maths very much, history was boring, and I found science difficult. I had a small group of friends, not many but a close group of friends and I used to spend time with them talking about sport, talking about music, so it wasn't too bad, but I didn't like it very much. I've never been back to school, I've never been to a school reunion, or anything like that.

Interviewer Did you like school?

M No, not really. I didn't like it at all.

Interviewer Why not?

M It was a boys' school and I got bored with just being with boys all the time. And I didn't really like any of the subjects.

3

Interviewer Did you like school?

M Well, yes and no. Some things I really loved, some things I thought 'this isn't much fun', but I used to enjoy quite a lot of the subjects.

Interviewer Like what?

M I liked English and I liked maths.

Interviewer And what didn't you enjoy?

M I hated geography. And I hated PE. The PE teacher once caught me reading a book on the football pitch, and I was punished for that.

4

Interviewer Did you like school?

W I didn't like it, I absolutely loved it! I liked all the subjects, especially English and history. I remember one time when I was about six or seven, I got ill during the Easter holidays and I was really, really sad, and my mum thought I was sad because I was ill during the holidays, but in fact I was terrified that I'd never get better and I'd never go back to school.

- W Er, sometimes. Yeah, most of the time.
- Interviewer What did you like about it?
- W Well I had some good friends, and I liked learning things but there were some subjects that I didn't like very much and I hated PE. I used to invent a lot of excuses, like saying that I was ill, because I didn't want to do it.

- Interviewer Did you like school?
- W Yes, definitely, I really enjoyed school. Elementary school was all fun and we had great teachers. I always really looked forward to getting back to school. High school was harder work and we used to have lots of exams and tests, but we had really inspiring teachers. My favourites were in math and biology. And overall, yeah, I really liked it.

- Nancy Yes, I know.
- Brian You don't need your trainers. We're going to be on the beach most of the time!
- Nancy Yes, but I might go to the gym. There's one in the hotel.
- Brian And why are you taking a raincoat? It's not going to rain in Greece in June.

- Nancy It might rain. It sometimes rains in the summer.
- Brian What's that?
- Nancy It's my hairdryer.
- Brian But the hotel will have a hairdryer.
- Nancy It might not have one. Hotels don't always have hairdryers. And I need it.
- Brian And two pairs of jeans? We're only going to be there for a week.
- Nancy They're different styles. I'm not sure which ones I'll want to wear.
- Brian You need to take some things out. Extra baggage costs a fortune. It's something like 10 pounds per kilo.
- Nancy Yes, yes, I will, I promise.
- Brian Well, hurry up. The traffic might be a bit slow because of the rain.
- Nancy I'll be ready in five minutes...

- Brian I knew it. I told you it was too heavy.
- Baggage Drop You need to go to the window over there and pay for the extra two and a half kilos. That'll be £25.

Buying jeans isn't as easy as it used to be. Years ago there was only one kind of jeans – probably Levis. Nowadays, there are hundreds – different styles, different colours, different lengths, with buttons, with zips. There are so many options that you feel the perfect pair must be waiting for you somewhere...

And it isn't just jeans. In big supermarkets we have to choose between thousands of products – my local supermarket has 35 different kinds of milk! When we're buying clothes or electrical gadgets, ordering a coffee in a cafe, looking for a hotel on a travel website, deciding which TV channel to watch, or even choosing a future partner on a dating website, we constantly have to choose from hundreds of possibilities.

People often think that being able to choose from a lot of options is a good thing.

However, university researchers have discovered that too much choice is making us feel unhappy and dissatisfied. The problem is that we have so many options that we get stressed every time we have to make a decision, because we're worried about making the wrong one. Then when we choose one thing we feel bad because we think we are missing other opportunities, and this makes us dissatisfied with what we've chosen.

Research also shows that we feel happier when we have less choice. In a study, Professor Mark Lepper at Stanford University found that people who tried six kinds of jam and then chose one felt happier with their choice than those who were offered 24 jams to taste.

Student's Book Audioscript

But if all this choice is bad for us, what can we do about it? Professor Lepper suggests that we should try to relax when we have to decide what to buy. 'Don't take these choices too seriously or it will become stressful,' he says. 'If you pick a sofa from IKEA in 30 seconds, you'll feel better than if you spend hours researching sofas – because you won't know what you're missing.'

11.16

I went onto the Twin Strangers website. All you have to do is pay $3.95, upload a photo of your face, and then describe it, your nose, mouth, and eyes. I looked in a mirror and decided that I have an oval face, blue eyes and, unfortunately, thin lips.

Immediately I got a lot of photos of possible matches. My first reaction was 'They all look totally different from me'. Then something interesting began to happen. Some of the people started to look familiar, like people in my family. I found one woman who looked just like my brother. I started to wonder. Was there something there?

I called my husband to come and have a look at all these 'twins'. His first reaction was the same as mine, but then he went a bit quiet. He pointed to one woman who, at first sight, looks completely different from me, but whose picture I had stopped at several times. He said 'She has the same mouth as you. In fact she's a bit like you.' And he was right.

I decided to change my profile a bit. Many people tell me I look younger than I really am, so I put my age as ten years younger, and then searched again. The result was surprising. Suddenly there seemed to be a number of women a bit like me. Especially one. I put her picture on my Facebook page and asked my friends what they thought. The first person to answer was my brother. Yes, he wrote. She looks like you and our sister.

It's a strange feeling. I keep looking at her picture. We're very similar, but not identical, for example she has brown eyes but mine are blue. But there's something there. Not just the blonde hair and the thin lips. There's something in her eyes that I recognize. It's a very strange feeling, but I'm really happy that I found her. I sent her a message through the website, but she hasn't replied yet. I'm going to keep trying. I want to know who she is.

Rosemary Hello, Iris. I'm fine thanks, but you'll never guess what's happened. Jack and Emma have broken up!

Iris No! Jack and Emma, from number 36? That can't be true. I saw them last week and they looked really happy.

Rosemary No, it's definitely true. I heard them shouting. They were having a terrible argument.

Iris No! When?

Rosemary Last night. After he came home from work.

Iris What did they say?

Rosemary Well, I wasn't really listening...

Iris Of course not.

Rosemary But I couldn't help hearing. She was talking so loudly and of course the walls are very thin...

Iris So what did they say?

Rosemary Well, she said that she was going to stay with her mum! She told him that she wouldn't come back.

Iris Ooh, how awful. What about the children?

Rosemary She said she'd taken them to her sister's. I suppose she'll take them with her in the end. And anyway, then five minutes later I saw her leaving the house with a suitcase!

Iris No! Why do you think she's leaving him? Is he seeing another woman?

Rosemary I don't know. Ooh, here's my bus.

Iris I must go and tell Mrs Jones at number 14. She's always thought there was something... something strange about him.

Emma I'm upstairs in the bedroom. I'm packing.

Jack Why? Where are you going?

Emma I'm going to stay with my mum.

Jack Your Mum? Why?

Emma She's had an accident. She fell over in the street yesterday and she's broken her leg.

Jack How awful. Poor thing. Shall I go and make you a cup of tea?

Emma That'd be lovely. Thanks darling.

Jack How long do you think you'll have to stay?

Emma I won't come back until the weekend I don't think.

Jack Sorry, until when?

Emma Until the weekend. I'll have to make sure she's OK. I've taken the children to my 11 & 12 Revise and Check*12.10*1*I = interviewer, M = Mark*I Did you like school?M I loved school actually. Um, I think I preferred senior school more than junior school, but yeah, um, lots of friends, lots of, sort of sporting activities and things, so yeah, I loved it.I What were your best and worst subjects?M My best subject was probably mathematics. Um, loved mathematics and found I was, sort of, very capable at it, so it was quite easy. Um, I think it's one of those things that's natural. But, um, worst subject, maybe Latin. Never very good at languages even though I use them every day now, but never very, I like languages now but I hated them at school.2*I = interviewer, C = Caroline*I Did you have a favourite or least favourite teacher at school?C Um, let me think about that. Yes, I, um, liked the French teacher. She was probably my favourite, favourite teacher because, um, she was French and she taught us to speak with a very good French accent.I Did she inspire you?C She did, and I'm still learning French and go, I live in Australia, um, and I go to France every year and I go to French language schools.3*I = interviewer, J = John*I Do you have a problem making decisions? What about?J It depends what sort of decision it is. If it's a sort of instant decision, I make pretty good instant decisions, but the longer you think about them, then I probably decide, or try to decipher, which is the best decision. So, instant decisions is a better way for me.4*I = interviewer, A = Alison*I Do you know any twins? Are they identical?A Yes, I'm a twin myself. I have a twin brother. And my sister has got twin boys. They're aged 16 and they're not identical. They don't look very similar and they don't have similar personalities either.5*I = interviewer, K = Kathy*I Who do you think gossips more, men or women? Why?K I think stereotypic-, stereotypically people say women gossip more, um, but I actually think men gossip quite a lot as well. I think, I think men gossip more in a factual way, whereas women gossip more, maybe, in more of a personal, emotional way, so maybe in kind of a nastier way than what men do, I would say. But I would say that they probably gossip the same, or in a similar way.
